

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
DISTRICT OF MINNESOTA

LaShaun Johnson, individually and on behalf of all others similarly situated, Plaintiff, vs. Kia America, Inc. and Hyundai Motor America, Defendants.	Case No. _____ CLASS ACTION COMPLAINT JURY TRIAL DEMANDED
---	---

COMES NOW, LASHAUN JOHNSON (“Plaintiff”), individually and on behalf of the Class, who states and alleges as follows:

INTRODUCTION

1. Plaintiff brings this action on behalf of himself and on behalf of a Class of similarly situated consumers against Defendants Kia America, Inc. (“Kia”) and Hyundai Motor America (“Hyundai”) (collectively “Defendants”) who purchased or leased vehicles manufactured and sold by Defendants.

2. Defendants manufacture and sell motor vehicles in the United States and Minnesota. These products include popular models like the Hyundai Tucson and Santa Fe and the Kia Sportage and Sorento.

3. Defendants’ vehicles suffer from a significant defect: they do not include an engine immobilizer.

4. An engine immobilizer is designed to prevent vehicle theft when a vehicle is left unattended. An engine immobilizer works by transmitting a code to the vehicle when the key is inserted in the ignition switch or a key fob is inside the vehicle.

5. Thefts of Kia and Hyundai vehicles has risen substantially across the United States as knowledge of the defect is now widespread.

6. Because vehicles manufactured and sold by Kia and Hyundai suffer from a defect, thieves only need to gain access to a vehicle, and once inside, strip the ignition column and insert a screwdriver, knife, or even a USB cord to start the vehicle.

7. Kia and Hyundai are aware that their vehicles lack engine immobilizers.

8. Kia and Hyundai are aware that thefts of vehicles manufactured and sold by them have increased nationwide.

9. Despite the rise in vehicle thefts, Kia and Hyundai have not issued a recall or offered to install vehicle immobilizers in the affected vehicles.

10. Plaintiff purchased vehicles from Defendants which suffer from the defect. Plaintiff would not have purchased the vehicles or would have paid less for the vehicles had Plaintiff known about the defect.

11. As a result of Defendants' unfair, deceptive, and/or fraudulent business practices, consumers of these products, including Plaintiff, have suffered an ascertainable loss, injury-in-fact, and otherwise have been harmed by Defendants' conduct.

PARTIES

12. Plaintiff is a resident of the City of St. Paul, County of Ramsey, Minnesota.

13. Defendant Kia America, Inc. is a California corporation with its principal place of business in California.

14. Defendant Kia may accept service via its registered agent CT Corporation System, Inc. at 1010 Dale Street N St. Paul, MN 55117-5603.

15. Defendant Hyundai Motor America is a California corporation with its principal place of business in California.

16. Defendant Hyundai may accept service via its registered agent Corporation Service Company at 2345 Rice Street, Suite 230, Roseville, MN 55113–5603.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

17. This Court has original jurisdiction of this action under the Class Action Fairness Act of 2005. Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1332(d), this Court has original jurisdiction because the aggregate claims of the members of the putative class exceeds $5 million, exclusive of costs, and at least one of the Class members is a citizen of a different state than Defendants.

18. This Court has supplemental jurisdiction over the state law claims pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1367 because all other claims that are so related to claims in the action within such original jurisdiction that they form part of the same case or controversy.

19. Defendants regularly and systematically conduct business and sell their products in this District to customers in this District, including to Plaintiff and the Class. As such, Defendants are subject to the jurisdiction of this Court.

20. Venue is likewise proper in this district pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1391 because Defendants are subject to personal jurisdiction in this District and regularly conduct business in this District.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND AND GENERAL ALLEGATIONS

I. THEFTS OF DEFENDANTS' DEFECTIVE VEHICLES.

21. In St. Paul, Minnesota, thefts of Kia vehicles have increased 1300% while thefts of Hyundai vehicles have increased 584%.

22. In response to the rise in thefts of Kia and Hyundai vehicles in St. Paul, Ramsey County, Minnesota Undersheriff Mike Martin stated, “The Kias and Hyundais have what I call a design flaw that allows them to be stolen easier. All they have to do is break a window and get in and within seconds those cars can be compromised and be started with a USB port or even a pocket knife.”¹

23. In Minneapolis, Minnesota, Kia has become the thief’s vehicle of choice. Starting in the second quarter of 2022 (April through July), Kia became the vehicle make that was stolen most often. To start off the third quarter of the year, Kia and Hyundai vehicles were stolen more often than any other make.²

24. Local Minnesota news station Fox 9 detailed the story of Lynda Pierce, whose Kia was stolen twice in a two-month period, which resulted in her paying two auto insurance deductibles on top of needed vehicle repairs. The story noted that Pierce could no longer go to the grocery store or make medical appointments without her Kia.

25. Authorities told Fox 9 that Kia and Hyundai vehicles “are easier to steal because they lack an electronic security device called an engine immobilizer, making them easier to start without a key.”

26. In neighboring Milwaukee, Wisconsin, Kia and Hyundai vehicles represented two out of every three vehicles stolen during the first half of 2021.³

27. One car-repair facility owner was quoted by the Milwaukee Journal Sentinel explaining that “Kia thieves know they can break the back window without setting off an alarm, unlock the door, quickly peel back the steering column, and either use a screwdriver or a USB port to crank the car and go."

¹ Caroline Cummings, Thefts of Kia and Hyundai cars soar in St. Paul, data show, CBS Minnesota (July 19, 2022), <https://www.cbsnews.com/minnesota/news/thefts-of-kia-and-hyundai-cars-soar-in-st-paul-data-show/>.

² Rose Schmidt, Kias and Hyundais now most stolen cars in Minneapolis, data shows, Fox 9 (Aug. 15, 2022), <https://www.fox9.com/news/data-kias-and-hyundais-now-most-stolen-cars-in-minneapolis>.

³ Clifford Atiyeh, Hyundai, Kia Take Action after Cars Become Theft Targets in Milwaukee, Car and Driver (Dec. 11, 2021), <https://www.caranddriver.com/news/a38491394/hyundai-kia-thefts-milwaukee-action/#:~:text=According%20to%20city%20police%20in,half%20of%202021%20in%20Milwaukee>.

II. DEFENDANTS' DEFECTIVE VEHICLES.

28. Defendants did not install engine immobilizers in all their vehicles.

29. An engine immobilizer is designed to prevent vehicle theft when a vehicle is left unattended. An engine immobilizer works by transmitting a code to the vehicle when the key is inserted in the ignition switch or a key fob is inside the vehicle.

30. Defendants' vehicles suffer from a defect because they do not include an engine immobilizer.

31. If Defendants' vehicles included an engine immobilizer then they would be more difficult to steal because a thief could not start or move the vehicle without the vehicle's key.

32. Federal regulations require that a vehicle's engine cannot be started and that a vehicle cannot move when the vehicle's key is not present.

33. Each vehicle must have a starting system which, whenever the key is removed from the starting system prevents: (a) the normal activation of the vehicle's engine or motor; and (b) either steering, or forward self-mobility, of the vehicle, or both. FMVSS 114, S.5.1.1.

34. Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Standard 114 serves two purposes: to prevent auto theft and to prevent vehicle rollaway.

35. Defendants' vehicles suffer from a defect and do not comply with FMVSS 114 because when the key is removed from the starting system the vehicle's engine or motor can be activated and removal of the key does not prevent steering or forward self-mobility.

36. Defendants' failure to comply with FMVSS 114 does not prevent auto theft.

37. If Defendants' vehicles were manufactured to comply with FMVSS 114, then Defendants' vehicles would not be stolen at such alarming rates because when the key is removed from the starting system, both steering and forward self-mobility would be prevented.

38. A vehicle without an engine immobilizer is not a reliable or safe vehicle and is less valuable than a vehicle with an engine immobilizer.

39. A vehicle that does not comply with FMVSS 114 is not a reliable or safe vehicle and is less valuable than a vehicle that complies with FMVSS 114.

40. Defendants knew their vehicles were defective in that they did not have an engine immobilizer and did not comply with FMVSS 114 and failed to disclose these defects to consumers like Plaintiff and the putative Class.

41. Defendants knew that it was unsafe and dangerous for a vehicle not to have an engine immobilizer.

42. In response to the significant rise in thefts of their vehicles, spokespeople for Kia and Hyundai told Car and Driver magazine that every new Hyundai now has standard engine immobilizers, and that all 2022 Kias across the lineup will also have the engine immobilizer fitted as standard equipment.

43. Defendants have not provided a solution to the thousands of Kia and Hyundai owners whose vehicles remain without engine immobilizers.

III. PLAINTIFF'S USE OF DEFENDANTS' DEFECTIVE VEHICLES.

44. On December 26, 2019, Plaintiff purchased a 2019 Kia Sorento from Jeff Belzer's Kia in Lakeville, Minnesota.

45. Plaintiff purchased the Kia Sorento for around $22,000.00 and has made monthly payments of $367.00 for the vehicle.

46. On the morning of August 24, 2022, Plaintiff awoke to find his Kia Sorento stolen. According to the police, the thieves used a flat head screwdriver to take off the ignition column and start the car.

47. The thieves smashed out the driver side window of the vehicle, significantly damaged the driver side door, damaged the hood of the vehicle, and scratched the vehicle considerably. Plaintiff's mechanic informed him that it will take months to fix the vehicle because they do not have the parts.

48. Plaintiff expects to pay his $750 insurance deductible to cover repair costs but the full extent of the costs are ongoing.

49. Plaintiff also owns a 2013 Hyundai Sonata.

50. Plaintiff has suffered an ascertainable loss as a result of Defendant Kia's wrongful conduct associated with its vehicle's defect including, but not limited to, his insurance deductible, and overpayment and diminished value of his Kia Sorento.

51. Plaintiff has suffered an ascertainable loss as a result of Defendant Hyundai's wrongful conduct associated with its vehicle's defect including, but not limited to, overpayment and diminished value of his Hyundai Sonata.

52. Plaintiff would not have purchased Defendants' defective vehicles if he had known they were defective and more susceptible to theft.

CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

53. Plaintiff brings this action pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 23 on behalf of a Class of individuals defined as:

Nationwide Class:

All persons who, within the applicable statute of limitations period, purchased or leased a vehicle manufactured by Kia America, Inc. or Hyundai Motor America without an engine immobilizer.

Minnesota Class:

All persons in Minnesota who, within the applicable statute of limitations period, purchased or leased a vehicle manufactured by Kia America, Inc. or Hyundai Motor America without an engine immobilizer.

54. Plaintiff reserves the right to modify or amend the definition of the proposed Class and/or to add subclasses, if necessary, before this Court determines whether class certification is appropriate.

55. Excluded from the Class are: (1) any entity in which Defendants have a controlling interest; (2) officers or directors of Defendants; (3) this Court and any of its employees assigned to work on the case; and (4) all employees of the law firms representing Plaintiff and the Class.

56. This action is brought and may be properly maintained on behalf of each Class member.

57. Numerosity of the Class: The members of the Class are so numerous that a joinder of all members would be impracticable. While the exact number of Class members is presently unknown to Plaintiff, and can only be determined through appropriate discovery, Plaintiff believes the Class is likely to include thousands of members based on the fact Defendants distribute their vehicles nationwide.

58. The Class definition identifies unnamed Plaintiffs by describing a set of common characteristics sufficient to allow a member of that group to identify themselves as having a right to recover damages from Defendants. Other than by direct notice by mail or email, alternatively proper and sufficient notice of this action may be provided to the Class through notice published in newspapers or other publications.

59. Commonality: This action involves common questions of law and fact. The questions of law and fact common to both Plaintiff and the Class include, but are not limited to, the following:

- a. Whether the vehicles fail under the implied warranty of usability;
- b. Whether the vehicles fail under the implied warranty of merchantability;
- c. Whether Defendants failed to warn consumers regarding the risks of the vehicles;
- d. Whether Defendants designed the vehicles with a defect;
- e. Whether Defendants violated the Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act;
- f. Whether Defendants' conduct constitutes unfair or deceptive acts or practices under Minnesota law;
- g. Whether Defendants were unjustly enriched by the sale of the vehicles;
- h. The appropriate nature of class-wide equitable relief; and
- i. The proper method or methods to determine and measure Plaintiff's and the Classes' damages.

60. Typicality: Plaintiff's claims are typical of all members of the Class. The evidence and the legal theories regarding Defendants' alleged wrongful conduct committed against Plaintiff and the Class are substantially the same because all putative Class members purchased Defendants' vehicles for personal use and all putative Class members overpaid or suffered a loss in value of their vehicles. Accordingly, in pursuing their own self-interest in litigating their claims, Plaintiff will also serve the interests of the Class.

61. Adequacy: Plaintiff will fairly and adequately protect the interests of the Class. Plaintiff retained competent counsel experienced in class action litigation to ensure such protection. There are no material conflicts between the claims of the representative Plaintiff and the Class that would make class certification inappropriate. Additionally, Plaintiff's Counsel are competent to advance the interests of the Class having been designated as Lead Counsel in dozens, if not hundreds, of Class cases. Plaintiff and their Counsel intend to prosecute this action vigorously.

62. Predominance and Superiority: The matter is properly maintained as a class action under Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(b)(3) because the common questions of law and fact identified herein, and to be identified through discovery, predominate over questions that may affect only individual Class members. Further, a class action is superior to all other available methods for the fair and efficient adjudication of this matter because the injuries suffered by the individual Class members are relatively small. As such, the expense and burden of individual litigation would make it virtually impossible for Plaintiff and the Class to individually seek redress for Defendants' wrongful conduct. Even if any individual person or group(s) of the Class could afford individual litigation, it would be unduly burdensome to the courts in which the individual litigation would proceed. The class action device is preferable to individual litigation because it provides the benefits of unitary adjudication, economies of scale, and comprehensive adjudication by a single court. In contrast, the prosecution of separate actions by individual Class members would create a risk of inconsistent or varying adjudications with respect to individual Class members that would establish incompatible standards of conduct for the party (or parties) opposing the Class and would lead to repetitious trials of the numerous common questions of law and fact. Plaintiff knows of no difficulty that will be encountered in the management of this litigation that would preclude its maintenance as a class action. As a result, a class action is superior to other available methods for the fair and efficient adjudication of this action. Absent a class action, Plaintiff and the Class will continue to suffer losses, thereby allowing Defendants' violations of law to proceed without remedy and allowing Defendants to retain the proceeds of their ill-gotten gains.

63. Plaintiff anticipates the issuance of notice setting forth the subject and nature of the instant action to the proposed Class. To the extent any further notices may be required, Plaintiff anticipates the use of additional media or mailings.

CAUSES OF ACTION

COUNT I

BREACH OF THE IMPLIED WARRANTY OF USABILITY

(On Behalf of Plaintiff and the Nationwide and Minnesota Classes)

64. Plaintiff re-alleges and incorporates by reference each of the foregoing paragraphs as if fully set forth herein.

65. Defendants, as manufacturers of the vehicles, impliedly warranted to Plaintiff and the Class that the vehicles were usable for their ordinary and intended use.

66. Defendants breached the implied warranty of usability in connection with the sale and distribution of the vehicles. At the point of sale, the vehicles while appearing normal—contained defects as set forth herein rendering them less valuable than warranted.

67. Defendants, its agents and its employees knew or should have known that the vehicles suffered from a defect that increases the risk of the vehicle being stolen to such an extent that the vehicles are less valuable than warranted.

68. Defendants did not provide appropriate warranty relief notwithstanding the risks of using the vehicles. Plaintiff and the Class reasonably expected, at the time of purchase, that the vehicles were usable for their ordinary and intended use.

69. Had Plaintiff and Class Members known they would not be able to use their vehicles, they would not have purchased them or would have paid significantly less for them.

70. As a direct and proximate result of Defendants' breach of the implied warranty of usability, Plaintiff and the Class have sustained damages in an amount to be determined at trial.

COUNT II

BREACH OF THE IMPLIED WARRANTY OF MERCHANTABILITY

(On Behalf of Plaintiff and the Nationwide and Minnesota Classes)

71. Plaintiff re-alleges and incorporates by reference each of the foregoing paragraphs as if fully set forth herein.

72. Defendants, as manufacturers of the vehicles, impliedly warranted to Plaintiff and the Class that the vehicles were of merchantable quality and safe for their ordinary and intended use.

73. Defendants breached the implied warranty of merchantability in connection with the sale and distribution of the vehicles. At the point of sale, the vehicles while appearing normal—contained defects as set forth herein rendering them less safe and less reliable for personal use.

74. Had Plaintiff and the Class known the vehicles were less safe and less reliable for use, they would not have purchased them.

75. Defendants did not provide appropriate warranty relief notwithstanding the risks of using the vehicles. Plaintiff and the Class reasonably expected, at the time of purchase, that the vehicles were safe for their ordinary and intended use.

76. As a direct and proximate result of Defendant's breach of the implied warranty of merchantability, Plaintiff and the Class have sustained damages in an amount to be determined at trial.

COUNT III

NEGLIGENT FAILURE TO WARN

(On Behalf of Plaintiff and the Nationwide and Minnesota Classes)

77. Plaintiff re-alleges and incorporates by reference each of the foregoing paragraphs as if fully set forth herein.

78. Defendants owed Plaintiff and Class Members a duty of care and to warn of any risks associated with the vehicles. Defendants knew or should have known of the true risks but failed to warn Plaintiff and Class Members.

79. Defendants' negligent breach of duty caused Plaintiff and Class Members economic damages and injuries in the form of less reliable and less safe vehicles.

80. Plaintiff and Class members would not have purchased, chosen, and/or paid for all or part of the vehicles had they known that the risks associated with purchasing the product.

81. Plaintiff and the Class suffered damages in an amount to be determined at trial.

COUNT IV

STRICT LIABILITY – DESIGN DEFECT

(On Behalf of Plaintiff and the Nationwide and Minnesota Classes)

82. Plaintiff re-alleges and incorporates by reference each of the foregoing paragraphs as if fully set forth herein.

83. Defendants designed, manufactured, and/or supplied the vehicles in question within the ordinary course of their business.

84. Plaintiff and the Class members purchased and own Defendants' vehicles.

85. Defendants' vehicles contain a design defect including that, among other things, Defendants manufactured and designed them without engine immobilizers, an electronic security device that makes it more difficult to start a vehicle without a key. As a result, the vehicles are easier to steal than vehicles with engine immobilizers and are therefore unsafe and worth less than if they had engine immobilizers.

86. Defendants knew or should have known of the dangerous and defective nature of the vehicles at the time of their design, manufacture, sale, testing, transportation, distribution, supply, and use.

87. Defendants failed to take safety precautions to prevent economic injury to Plaintiff and the Class and failed to warn and/or instruct Plaintiff and the Class of the defective and unreasonably dangerous nature of said vehicles.

88. Defendants’ defective and unreasonably dangerous vehicles directly and proximately caused economic injuries to Plaintiff and the Class.

89. Plaintiff and the Class leave their vehicles unattended and without a key, which is a manner of use reasonably anticipated by Defendants.

90. As a result of the defect in Defendants’ vehicles, they are unreasonably dangerous and defective when put to the use anticipated by Defendants.

91. As a direct and proximate result of the dangerous and defective condition of Defendants’ vehicles and Defendants’ failure to warn of the dangers thereof, Plaintiff and the Class have suffered economic injuries.

92. Plaintiff and the Class’ injuries include, but are not limited to, the difference in value between a vehicle with an engine immobilizer and one without, the purchase price of any device intended to prevent theft, and increased insurance premiums due to the design defect.

COUNT V

VIOLATION OF THE MAGNUSON MOSS WARRANTY ACT

(On Behalf of Plaintiff and the Nationwide and Minnesota Classes)

93. Plaintiff re-alleges and incorporates by reference each of the foregoing paragraphs as if fully set forth herein.

94. Congress enacted the MMWA, 15 U.S.C. §§ 2301 et seq., to address the widespread misuse of merchants’ express warranties and to protect consumers from deceptive warranty practices. The MMWA imposes civil liability on any “warrantor” who fails to comply with any obligation under a written or corresponding implied warranty. Id. § 2310(d)(1).

95. Defendants’ vehicles are “consumer products” as defined in 15 U.S.C. § 2301(1).

96. Plaintiff and the Class are “consumers” as defined in 15 U.S.C. § 2301(3).

97. Defendants are “suppliers” and “warrantors” as those terms are defined in 15 U.S.C. § 2301(4) & (5), respectively.

98. In connection with the sale and/or lease of the vehicles, Defendants supplied Plaintiff and the Class with “written warranties” as that term is defined in 15 U.S.C. § 2301(6).

99. 15 U.S.C. § 2310(d)(1) provides that “a consumer who is damaged by the failure of the supplier, warrantor, or service contractor to comply with any obligation under [the MMWA], or a written warranty, implied warranty, or service contract, may bring suit for damages and other legal and equitable relief in any court of competent jurisdiction in any state.”

100. 15 U.S.C. § 2301(d)(1) provides a cause of action for any consumer who is damaged by the failure of a warrantor to comply with an implied warranty.

101. Defendants provided Plaintiff and Class with an implied warranty of merchantability in connection with the purchase or lease of their vehicles that is an “implied warranty” within the meaning of the Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act, 15 U.S.C. § 2301(7). As a part of the implied warranty of merchantability, Defendants warranted that the vehicles were fit for their ordinary purpose and would pass without objection in the trade as designed, manufactured, and marketed, and were adequately contained, packaged, and labeled.

102. Defendants breached their implied warranties, as described herein, and are therefore liable to Plaintiff and the Class under 15 U.S.C. § 2310(d)(1). The defect rendered the vehicles unmerchantable and unfit for their ordinary use of driving when they were sold or leased, and at all times thereafter.

103. Plaintiff and the Class used their respective vehicles in a manner consistent with their intended use and performed every duty required of them under the terms of the warranty, except as may have been excused or prevented by Defendants’ conduct or by operation of law.

104. Plaintiff and the Class seek to recover damages resulting directly from Defendants' breach of their implied warranties and their deceitful and unlawful conduct described herein. These damages include, but are not limited to, overpayment for the vehicles, insurance deductibles to get the stolen vehicles repaired, the cost to replace other property stolen in connection with the thefts of their vehicles, the loss of use of their respective vehicles, costs associated with the replacement of the totaled vehicles, and/or the diminution in value of stolen vehicles that were not totaled.

105. The MMWA also permits "other legal and equitable" relief. 15 U.S.C. § 2310(d)(1). Plaintiff and the Class seek reformation of Defendants' respective written warranties to comport with their obligations under the MMWA and with consumers' reasonable expectations. Plaintiff and the Class also seek to enjoin Defendants from acting unlawfully as alleged herein.

106. Plaintiff and the Class are entitled to costs and expenses, including attorneys' fees in the Court's discretion. 15 U.S.C. § 2310(d)(2).

COUNT V

VIOLATION OF THE MINNESOTA PREVENTION OF CONSUMER FRAUD ACT

(On Behalf of Plaintiff and the Minnesota Class)

107. Plaintiff re-alleges and incorporates by reference each of the foregoing paragraphs as if fully set forth herein.

108. Minnesota's private attorney general statute authorizes consumers to bring a civil action under the CFA and "recover damages, together with costs and disbursements, including costs of investigation and reasonable attorney's fees" and other equitable relief as determined by the court. Minn. Stat. § 8.31, subd. 3a.

109. The CFA permits a consumer to bring a civil action against:

[t]he act, use, or employment by any person of any fraud, false pretense, false promise, misrepresentation, misleading statement or deceptive practice, with the intent that others rely thereon in connection with the sale of any merchandise, whether or not any person has in fact been misled, deceived, or damaged thereby Minn. Stat. § 325F.69, subd. 1.

110. Both Plaintiff, the Class, and Defendants constitute a “person” pursuant to Minn. Stat. § 325F.68, subd. 3.

111. Defendants’ vehicles constitute “merchandise” pursuant to Minn. Stat. § 325F.68, subd. 2.

112. Defendants used fraud, misrepresentations, misleading statements, deceptive practices, and false promises in perpetrating its scheme as alleged herein.

113. Plaintiff and the Class relied upon misrepresentations, misleading statements, deceptive practices, and false promises by Defendants, which resulted in injury to them.

114. Plaintiff and the Class have suffered an ascertainable loss of money because of the use or employment by Defendants of a method, act or practice prohibited or declared to be unlawful by the provisions of the CFA.

115. Plaintiff and the Class’ actual out-of-pocket loss was proximately caused by Defendants’ violation of the CFA.

116. The circumstances suggest that evidence is likely to exist of the same type of conduct affecting other Minnesota consumers involving Defendants after a reasonable opportunity for further investigation and discovery.

COUNT VI

VIOLATION OF THE MINNESOTA UNIFORM DECEPTIVE TRADE PRACTICES

ACT (“DTPA”)

(On Behalf of Plaintiff and the Minnesota Class)

117. Plaintiff re-alleges and incorporates by reference each of the foregoing paragraphs as if fully set forth herein.

118. Defendants' policy and practice of manufacturing and selling defective vehicles as alleged herein is a violation of the DTPA, including by not limited to:

(2) causes likelihood of confusion or of misunderstanding as to the source, sponsorship, approval, or certification of goods or services;

(5) represents that goods or services have sponsorship, approval, characteristics, ingredients, uses, benefits, or quantities that they do not have or that a person has a sponsorship, approval, status, affiliation, or connection that the person does not have;

(7) represents that goods or services are of a particular standard, quality, or grade, or that goods are of a particular style or model, if they are of another;

(9) advertises goods or services with intent not to sell them as advertised;

(13) engages in any other conduct which similarly creates a likelihood of confusion or of misunderstanding.

Minn. Stat. § 325D.44, subd. 1.

119. Plaintiff need not prove competition between the parties or actual confusion or misunderstanding. Minn. Stat. § 325D.44, subd. 2.

120. A person likely to be damaged by a deceptive trade practice of another may be granted an injunction against it under the principles of equity and on terms that the court considers reasonable. Proof of monetary damage, loss of profits, or intent to deceive is not required. Minn. Stat. § 325D.45, subd. 1.

121. Should Plaintiff prevail in this Action, reasonable attorneys' fees and costs are to be awarded pursuant to § 325D.45, subd. 2.

COUNT VII

UNJUST ENRICHMENT

(On Behalf of Plaintiff and the Nationwide and Minnesota Classes)

122. Plaintiff re-alleges and incorporates by reference each of the foregoing paragraphs as if fully set forth herein.

123. Plaintiff and the Class members conferred a tangible and material economic benefit upon Defendants by purchasing the vehicles. Plaintiff and Class members would not have purchased, chosen and/or paid for all or part of vehicles had they known the true risks of using the vehicles while Defendants cannot provide a timely repair or replacement for the vehicles. Under these circumstances, it would be unjust and inequitable for Defendants to retain the economic benefits they received at the expense of Plaintiff and the Class.

124. Failing to require Defendants to provide remuneration under these circumstances would result in Defendants being unjustly enriched at the expense of Plaintiff and the Class members who endure being exposed to the risk of their vehicles being stolen and can no longer use their vehicles safely.

125. Defendants' retention of the benefit conferred upon them by Plaintiff and the Class would be unjust and inequitable.

126. Plaintiff and the Class suffered damages in an amount to be determined at trial.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Plaintiff, individually and on behalf of the Class, demands a jury trial on all claims so triable and judgment as follows:

- A. Certifying the proposed Nationwide Class, appointing Plaintiff as representative of the Nationwide Class, and appointing counsel for Plaintiff as Lead Counsel for the Nationwide Class;
- B. Certifying the proposed Minnesota Class, appointing Plaintiff as representative of the Minnesota Class, and appointing counsel for Plaintiff as Lead Counsel for the Minnesota Class;
- C. Finding that Defendants breached the implied warranty of usability;
- D. Finding that Defendants breached the implied warranty of merchantability;

- E. Finding that Defendants negligently failed to warn Plaintiff and the Class;
- F. Finding that Defendants' vehicles contain a design defect;
- G. Finding that Defendants violated the Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act;
- H. Finding that Defendants violated the Minnesota Consumer Fraud Act;
- I. Finding that Defendants violated the Minnesota Uniform Deceptive Trade Practices Act;
- J. Finding that Defendants were unjustly enriched by their sale of the vehicles;
- K. Awarding damages in an amount according to proof;
- L. Awarding pre- and post-judgment interest at the maximum rate permitted by applicable law;
- M. Reimbursing all costs, expenses, and disbursements accrued by Plaintiff in connection with this action, including reasonable attorneys' fees, costs, and expenses pursuant to applicable law and any other basis; and
- N. Awarding such other relief as this Court deems just and proper.

DEMAND FOR JURY TRIAL

Plaintiff, individually and on behalf of the Class, hereby demands a trial by jury on all issues in this Class Action Complaint that are so triable.

Dated: September 2, 2022

Respectfully submitted,

/s/ Zackary S. Kaylor

Timothy J. Becker (MN Bar No. 0256663)

Jacob R. Rusch (MN Bar No. 0391892)

Zackary S. Kaylor (MN Bar No. 0400854)

JOHNSON BECKER PLLC

444 Cedar Street, Suite 1800

St. Paul, MN 55101

(612) 436-1804 (phone)

(612) 436-1801 (fax)

tbecker@johnsonbecker.com

jrusch@johnsonbecker.com

zkaylor@johnsonbecker.com

Attorneys for Plaintiff